Mayor M. McKay Is North Renfrew Liberal Choice

Former M.P. Selected Candidate for Coming Dominion Election on a 265 to 85 Ballot.

Special to The Journal.
PEMBROKE, Ont., June 23.—Mayor Dr. Matthew McKay, veteran and fiery Pembroke political campaigner, yesterday was the choice of the North Renfrew Liberal Association as their standard bearer in the coming Dominion election. By a vote of 265 to 85, Mayor McKay, who represented the constituency in the Federal House from 1921 to 1925, was given the nomination over John D. MacLean, revive of nearby Westmath Township and present warden of the county, after four others had withdrawn their names.

Selection of the candidate was made at the convention of the Liberal Association, which was held in the town hall here. There was an attendance of slightly more than 500 people and besides electing their standard bearer, the slate of officers for the association was chosen and the addresses given by A. L. Beaulieu, M.P. for Provencer, Man., and J. A. McMillan, M.P. for McKenzie, Saskatchewan.

Australia Broke Ottawa Treaties

Bitter Attack Over Agreements Made at Conference Here.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 24.—A bitter attack on Australia for alleged violation of the Ottawa trade agreements was made by Alexander Donald McLeod, former New Zealand Minister of Industries and Commerce, in the Roturua Morning Post today.

He said if the present London conference resulted in Britain imposing taxes upon the foodstuffs of the Dominions, the blame would rest entirely upon Australia. (Conferees have been proceeding in London for weeks in an effort to arrive at an understanding on British meat imports.)

From the start Australia failed to honor the Ottawa agreements, McLeod charged. Often she deliberately broke them, seeking an unfair advantage over the sister Dominions, he said. She had been charging Australian consumers almost double the price she obtained for her surplus foodstuffs in Britain.

McLeod alleged that Australia had earned for all the Dominions the name of being trade dumpers and often had failed to observe confidences imposed by Britain upon many of her trade communications with the Dominions. Australia, he added, had deliberately done these things, knowing Britain was unlikely to enter into unilateral trade agreements with the Dominions.

Hollinger Paying Extra Dividend

MONTREAL, June 23.—Officer Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines Limited, yesterday declared an extra dividend of five cents a share in addition to the regular four-weekly dividend of the same amount. The disbursement is payable July 15 to shareholders of record June 28. This is the third extra dividend declaration by the company this year.

Want Tax Dropped On Govt. Issues

ST. ANDREWS, N.B., June 24.—A suggestion that further efforts be made to reduce the Dominion taxation on all Government guaranteed securities was made to the Dominion committee on Federal legislation.

Suggested alternatives were the lifting of the restriction on the five-year life of an all Dominion guarantee, said Mr. Gouin, retiring president of the association. The government had promised to consider the matter during the past year but had yet to make a decision.

In the case of short term securities, said Mr. Gouin, the stock transfer tax, which has been levied on having as closely quoted a market, leaving them not as readily marketable as other Government securities.

Trade in Canada Still Continues To Grow Better

Employment Is Highest Since 1931, Dominion Bureau of Statistics Indicates.

MONTREAL, June 24.—Canadian business improvement noted in May has continued in June, according to the monthly business summary of the Bank of Montreal. Highest point in nearly three years, a peak of 105.8 was reached by the economic index in the third week in May. Early in June the index had slipped to 102.3, a gain of nine percent over the corresponding date of 1934.

Canadian crop conditions at the beginning of June were below last year's averages but well above the figures for the same date in 1934. Favorable conditions in the prairie provinces have continued and in all other provinces there has been a marked improvement in crop prospects due to favorable weather conditions.

Wheat Prices Show Minor Changes

Wheat prices have shown minor fluctuations in May wheat exports were 11,989,891 bushels at an average value of 84 cents, compared with 11,770,770 bushels at an average value of 71 cents in May, 1934.

Returns of industrial production for May over April were mostly favorable, the report continues. The output of General Electric stations continued on a high level. Railway loadings showed a small increase in May and a further increase in the opening weeks of June. The cumulative total for the 23 weeks to June 6 being 978,243 cars, compared with 930,000 for the same period last year.

Gross revenues of both railway systems were off in May, compared with last year, but since the general recovery and the general revenue situation since the beginning of the year, the outlook is bright.

Good Wishes Extended To Maurice Tremblay

Maurice Tremblay, former Ottawa newspaperman, and now private secretary to Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines for Ontario, was tendered a reception by a large group of friends on Saturday evening at the Institut Canadien Francais, in honor of his approaching marriage to Miss Irene K. Allard.

Congratulations were extended to Mr. Tremblay by Mr. Leduc in a brief address, in which he paid tribute to Mr. Tremblay's industry and his popularity amongst the staff of the Mines Department at Toronto. Mayor Allan extended his best wishes to the prospective bridegroom in a witty address.

Presentation of a substantial cheque on behalf of a large number of his friends in Ottawa was made by Raoul Mercier, who quipped verses written by Mr. Tremblay's father, the late Jules Tremblay, on the occasion of Mr. Mercier's marriage in 1923.

Other speakers included Controller Fulgence Charpentier, F. W. Perras, M.P., Henri Dessaint, past president of the Institut, and Aime Guertin, M.L.A. Congratulations were also extended by a group of Mr. Tremblay's former conferees on the staffs of the Ottawa daily newspapers.

Mr. Tremblay thanked the gathering cordially for the good wishes offered him, and also for the material manner in which they had quipped their friendship and goodwill. Aurelie Chartrand acted as chairman at the reception.

Some Highlights In Wall Street

NEW YORK, June 24.—Sentiment in brokerage circles was aided by the fact that a sharp drop in demand for most finished steel products has been met to some extent by a substantial increase in structural shapes awards.

Interest in the steel market with interest in the interest of French national defence bonds has been a step toward economy in defence of the franc.

WHAT PRICE SUITS?

Mr. Ellis Was a Mild Man, a Bit Henpecked, Perhaps, but One Day He Turned and Defied the World.

By Warren A. Reeder.

MR. ELLIS stood in front of the brand new store on Main street and peered at the huge gilt sign doubtfully. "Fletcher's Clothing Emporium" it proclaimed to the world at large. But Mr. Ellis still hesitated—it had been a long time since he had purchased a suit of clothes.

He never enjoyed buying his clothes, either, but his wife's orders rang in his ears. "You get yourself a gray suit and don't pay over $35 for it," she had told him before he set out for work that morning.

At last he made up his mind and entered the store timidly. He stood there uneasily for several minutes, but nothing happened. Finally he summoned up enough courage to approach one of the clerks.

"I beg your pardon," he asked humbly, "but would you mind waiting on me? You see," he added hurriedly, when he saw the man frown portentously, "I'm rather in a hurry."

"I'm the owner," the man said shortly.

The owner, irritated, looked at him coldly, but Mr. Ellis bravely stuck to his guns. Then he turned to a near-by clerk. "Mr. Singer," he ordered, "see what this fellow wants."

Mr. Ellis flushed again. "I—I," he began and cleared his throat nervously. "I'd like to see a suit."

"A suit? Ah, yes," he nodded, as he rubbed his hands together unctuously. "What price—$100 or $125?"

Mr. Ellis choked. "Er—ah—$35," he murmured faintly, fervently praying the floor would open up and swallow him.

"Thirty-five dollars," the man repeated as if dazed. Mr. Ellis could have sworn he heard a repressed snicker behind him but he did not dare turn.

"Yes, sir," he answered meekly. "We'll do you a good one."

The man said haughtily. He led the way down the stairs and paused in the suit department.

"I want a gray suit," Mr. Ellis explained.

"We have no grays," the man said firmly. "You'll have to take a blue—that's all we have in the $40 price class."

"I said—thirty-five dollars."

"Forty dollars is absolutely our rock-bottom price," the man said, selecting a suit from the bottom of a pile. "Here—try this one."

"I'll take it," he said. "But I want the sleeves shortened."

The man suppressed a yawn. "I'll have that done today—no tomorrow," he corrected himself.

"You'll do a good job?" Mr. Ellis asked anxiously.

The man eyed him sternly. "We never make mistakes," he said firmly. Mr. Ellis felt thoroughly squelched.

"Yes, sir," he said unhappily. "I'll call for it tomorrow."

At home he faced a frowning spouse when he told her of his disobedience in getting a $40 suit.

"We Never Make Mistakes."

Steel Operations In United States
CLEVELAND, June 24.—(AP)—Steel works operations declined 3 1/2 points to 35 1/2 percent in the United States last week, due to a sharp reduction in demand for the majority of finished steel products, the magazine Steel's weekly review said. The reduced demand was somewhat offset, however, by a substantial increase in structural shape awards.

Automobile assemblies last week totaled 80,000, only a few hundred units less than the preceding week. Specifications for parts for Fall models already are making their way through the industry, leading to a belief that the automobile industry will be partially successful in eliminating the usual mid-summer slump.

Steel's iron and steel composite is down one cent to $32.40, with the finished steel index holding at $34. Scrap prices were off eight cents to $10.34.
