Joan Of Arc School Starts Campaign To Raise $20,000 To Aid Extension

A fund-raising campaign is now under way to raise $20,000 to build an $80,000 addition to the existing Joan of Arc private school located at 360 Kenwood Avenue.

The school, operated by the Sisters of the Joan of Arc Institute, is the only bilingual primary school in Ottawa whose enrollment includes Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish children. It is presently housed in two temporary wooden buildings "which are inadequate and overcrowded", according to Mrs. Marie Anne Laframboise, chairman of the building committee.

The current drive for $20,000—if successful—will be followed by other requests for financial contributions until the $80,000 goal has been reached. The school is operated independently from local school boards and must be financed through private commercial donations.

Many of the children enrolled at Joan of Arc School are sons and daughters of members of the diplomatic corps and local businessmen.

The first contribution was made Tuesday afternoon when John Massingberd, local manager of the O'Keefe Brewing Company Limited, presented a cheque for $1,000 to the fund raising chairman.

Plans for the proposed addition have not been completed pending result of the current drive for funds.

"The amount received will determine whether we will build an addition to the present four classrooms or build an entirely separate building," said Mrs. Laframboise. However, it is hoped enough money will be raised to build an additional six classrooms.

He leaves in addition to his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Henri A. (Aline) Grenier of Ottawa; one brother Orient of Ottawa; three grandchildren.

The funeral will leave the Landreville Funeral Home Friday to St. Jean Baptiste Church for requiem high mass at eight o'clock. Burial will be in Notre Dame Cemetery.

Sparks Street Mall "Planners" Lauded

The creation of the Sparks Street Mall is an example of cooperative planning by professional men. Civic officials and the National Capital Commission. Local architects and planning experts contributed their time and talent without remuneration realizing that the Mall offered a challenge in creative planning and the time element involved meant an additional challenge in creating a Mall befitting the heart of the National Capital within many limitations. The funds which had been made available by the City of Ottawa to the Sparks Street Development Association were increased many times in value as the result of the whole-hearted voluntary co-operation of those professional men and groups who came forward in an effort which has resulted in a virtual "garden city" in the heart of downtown Ottawa.

Co-ordinated Plan

In order to assure a finished effort that would not end up in a hodge-podge of ideas it was not only necessary and vital to have professional planning but also co-ordinate such plans to a demanding deadline after all vehicular traffic had been withdrawn from Sparks Street between Elgin and Bank Streets. The finished job speaks for itself. Ottawa's Sparks Street shopping Mall has been lauded by experts from other cities as a unique effort with the finished promenade second to none.

The Sparks Street Development Association recognizes with deep appreciation the voluntary efforts in advice and designing of such professional men as Paul Schoeller, Tourist Kiosk and restaurants; Brian Pye, Children's Playground; Jim Struett, Special events pavilion; Paul Arthur, signs and symbols; Peter Douglas, pool and fountain; David Partridge, Murals for playground; Michael Pine, sculptured wall; Jean Leaning, entrance feature, National Capital Commission stand; W. E. (Ted) Fancott, Ontario Architects Association, Ottawa Chapter representative with special mention going to Stig Harvor who was the co-ordinator of overall design and the entire project. Sparks Street Development officials refer to Mr. Harvor as "the young man who tied the whole job together".

The Mayor, Controllers and Aldermen showed keen interest and understanding for the project. The design committee composed of Watson Balharrie, chairman; Frank E. Ayres, Director of Planning and Works for the City of Ottawa; and D. L. McDonald, Director of Planning, National Capital Commission.

Mrs. W. Albert

Mrs. Wilfrid Albert of 106 Rideau Terrace died at her residence Tuesday after a short illness. She was 58.

She attended St. Charles Church and was a member of the Ladies of St. Anne, and the Third Order of St. Francis. She was married to Wilfrid Albert at Low in 1930. He was an employee with Charles Craig and Son Florists Limited.

She leaves in addition to her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Rene (Jervette) Vezeina of Gatineau; two brothers, Soloman of Messines, Que., and Romeo of Welland.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Rheel Campeau, Mrs. Leo Andrews of Hull and Mrs. Lucien Paul of Ottawa; and five grandchildren.

The funeral will leave the Whelan Funeral Home Friday to St. Charles Church for requiem high mass at eight o'clock.

Burial will be in Notre Dame Cemetery.

V. T. Langlois

Requiem high mass will be celebrated Friday at 8 a.m. in St. Anne's Church for Valmore Thomas Langlois, 50, of 21 Chapel Street, who died Monday as a result of injuries received in an auto accident Sunday at Perkins Mills.

Approve $335,000 Addition For Eastview's High School

A $335,000 addition to Eastview High School has been approved by the High School Board.

The addition will house a new gymnasium auditorium with stage, connected to the present gym. It will double the size of the cafeteria from 100 capacity to about 250, and contain a shop, six standard classrooms and a new commercial room.

"It will provide us, as of September first and starting with Grade nine more commercial, academic and technical facilities," said Principal Edgar Magrean.

Plaster will be eliminated in the new wing in favor of a glazed brick.

Architects are Craig, Madill, Abram and Ingleson.

No Name Change For Our Dollar

By The Canadian Press

Canada's dollar isn't likely to have its name changed to "beaver," Finance Minister Fleming indicates. He was replying in the Commons to H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) who noted such a change had been suggested by a Progressive Conservative candidate for the next federal election.
