

The Sport Realm

By BILL WESTWICK

WINNIPEG'S Blue Bombers apparently found Tigers quite a handful last night. On the basis of Western reports the Bombers were regarded as a fairly good bet to beat a Hamilton CRFU team that didn't impress as having too much power in their exhibition tilt with Rough Riders in Ottawa last Saturday. Regardless of the exhibition character of the game here the Bengals didn't display much in the way of an offensive even when player shuffles by Masters offered some opportunity for the visitors to do a little business on the offensive.

It isn't good policy to start drawing too many conclusions from exhibition games, but as a rule they offer some indication of what to expect even at this stage of the season. Coaches may take plenty of liberties in the way of substitutions but generally speaking they are interested in a solid victory if their team can achieve it. Bombers are in the process of a rebuilding program and won't be judged on the basis of this setback. But it isn't easy to overlook the fact that Merle Hapes was forced out of last night's game in the first quarter and that the Bengals went on to victory without him.

Gridiron fans will get a little more information when the Bombers move in against Argonauts this week-end. It will offer further basis for comparison with the Western team likely to improve off the season. From the Tiger standpoint that victory will be quite a help. It's season ticket time around Hamilton just as it is elsewhere. But the Tigers are battling Big Four opposition and victories over teams such as Winnipeg Blue Bombers don't hurt at all even if they happen to be early season exhibitions.

ROGERS SIGNED CRU FORM

Rough Rider football officials last night appeared resigned to let the case of Buck Rogers rest after a day in which the Ottawa athlete was first reported as returning from Regina and later as having decided to stay with the Western club. From telephone calls Rogers made to Ottawa there isn't any doubt that if he had his way he'd be on the train heading for the Capital. The ex-Ottawa lineman wasn't satisfied yesterday with the set-up in Regina and, despite any announcements to the contrary, he probably isn't any more satisfied today.

But the fly in the ointment is that Rogers has signed a CRU form with Regina, and it is almost certain that if Regina appealed to the governing body Buck would be ordered to remain with the club. He appears to have held high hopes that the Regina officials would grant him his release, but they were shattered when the Western club executive went into a huddle and came up with a 3-2 vote in favor of holding him to his contract.

A dissatisfied football player isn't apt to be too much help to a team, a fact which Rogers is said to have emphasized in discussions with Western officials. Not having won his point, it seems logical to assume that Regina must feel a dissatisfied Rogers is likely better than some of the satisfied performers on hand.

NOT MUCH HOPE, BUT TRYING

While things have been rather quiet so far along the football front, Ottawa's efforts to have Joe Schrauth, not regarded as a U.S. import, may cause a little stir in official circles. Rough Riders have appealed to the CRU to conduct a vote on the Schrauth case after furnishing all the details connected with the matter. Schrauth, who played football at Cornell, came to Ottawa on his own last winter to accept a position. The club feels that since they never were in contact with him and that he took up residence here without thought of playing any football, he should not be classed as one of the seven imports.

From what we know of it, Riders have a legitimate case, but it would be the height of optimism to expect the CRU to hand down a favorable ruling. The avenue if might open for abuses of the import rule is too obvious to warrant the prediction. Schrauth will be classed as anything but an import. Some years ago Hamilton had a similar situation and didn't get very far with it.

But hope springs eternal in the heart of Jimmy McCaffrey, who is asking the CRU to go ahead with a vote. So far as Rogers is concerned, the Ottawa manager seemed quite philosophic about it all.

"I suppose if we can't get him back and he stays on with Regina, the best thing to do is to make him a scout for us out there," said James last night while Riders were running through a scrimmage.

BOULEVARD BANTER

Argonauts' Teddy Morris is awaiting word from Cleveland where Jack O'Connor and Cecil McCadden, of the Toronto club, are conferring with the Executive. Morris is expecting a quarterback tackle and end from the Rams. . . . Meanwhile Argos have given "Chuck" Murphy, from the Philadelphia Eagles' camp, the signal to come over to Toronto and work with the Scullers. . . . Murphy is a 235-pound tackle ready to go to work in the Argo workouts. . . . Arthur Cockfield, the Nepean football coach, will attend the fifth annual New York State Coaching School next week at the University of Rochester campus. . . . Leading coaches will conduct courses embracing all branches of sport with emphasis on the 7-formation in football. . . . Newey Lalonde and Cy Denny, two of Cornwall's most famous athletes, are among those invited to take part in the official observance of the 70th anniversary of the founding of the Cornwall Lacrosse Club. . . . If, as Elmer Ferguson suggests, a lacrosse Hall of Fame is ever erected, Cornwall is the logical spot for it. . . . But the Cornwall Freeholder, discussing that possibility, doesn't relish the possibility of a controversy such as that which developed over the site of hockey's Hall of Fame. . . . Hamilton Wildcats are banking on big things from their most recent import, "Robin" Hood, who reported from the New York Yankees' training camp. . . . Hood formerly played with University of Alabama. . . . Andy Lytle, of the Toronto Star, has let himself in for something by inviting suggestions for a list of Canada's best 10 athletes. . . . Lionel Conacher and the late Harvey Pulford, of Ottawa, will probably head most lists.

Stars Still in Hunt For Masson Cup

More of the top tennis stars of the city found the going too tough against big handicaps in the Masson Cup tournament third round events played last night. However the favored strong men are still in the running despite their minus handicaps.

Onsted last night were Jack Habbishaw, Arnie Tedford and Johnny Milliken among others but in most cases it was the handicap most responsible. Habbishaw's defeat by Red Quinn, Jr. was one of the better matches of the night, Quinn fighting a big load of extra points to win 6-2, 6-3.

In a similar plight was flashy Gerry Lafortune who had an uphill struggle to defeat Bill Grove 5-7, 6-3, 9-7. Andre D'Aoust too was forced to three sets to down Alec Burt.

Late Tiger Drive Beats Blue Bombers 9-8

Hamilton Victory Proves Costly When Hapes Sprains Ankle

HAMILTON, Aug. 17. —(CP)—

Hamilton Tigers, Eastern Canada finalists last year, defeated Winnipeg Blue Bombers 9-8 in an exhibition football game under the flood lights here tonight. Tigers pulled the game out of the fire with a tie-breaking point when Doug Smith kicked a single to the deadline with about one minute to play.

It was a tense finish to a so-so game, the first of the year for the Bombers who missed the Western Canada playoffs last year for the first time in years.

It was a costly victory for Tigers, defeated 25-1 by Ottawa Rough Riders, in an exhibition game in the capital last Saturday. Merle Hapes, Tigers' hard hitting quarter and former New York Giant, suffered a sprained ankle in the first quarter when he was tackled hard in his own end.

It isn't known how long the American backfielder will be out of the game.

Tigers Driving Finish

About 7,000 football-hungry fans turned out for the game, considered just a tough scrimmage for the players. Play was a bit ragged at times and Winnipeg appeared to have the game in the bag with an 8-0 lead midway through the third quarter, but Tigers came to life and gained victory in a driving finish.

A fumble by big Bob Sandberg, a terrific cog in the Bomber machine, set up Hamilton's game-winning play. He muffed Doug Smith's kick on Winnipeg's 40 in the final quarter, allowing John Strach to recover for Tigers.

After two plays that just failed to gain yards, Smith kicked to the dead line and the game was won there, with just one minute to play.

Sandberg kicked two singles in the second quarter after a scoreless first 15 minutes.

The best plays of the game were in the third quarter. Winnipeg worked play to Hamilton's 25-yard line and the "touchdown" combination of Johnny Gardiner and Bill Clawson went to work. Gardiner flipped an over the middle pass to the big outside and he scampered over the line standing up for a touchdown. Wally Edwards converted to give Bombers an 8-0 lead.

65-Yard Touch.
With about five minutes remaining in the quarter, Tigers brought the partisan crowd to its feet with a dazzling 65-yard touchdown, touched off by a forward pass—one of the few completed in the game.

Joe Pal passed to Joe Capriotti, who lateraled to Bill Bamiano as he was tackled. The husky end was in the clear and centered over the line. Capriotti converted.

Capriotti scored a single earlier in the quarter when Paul Detrov was roused on his kick behind the line.

Tigers evened the game at 8-8 in the fourth quarter on Smith's single and put it in the bag with his second point of the stanza with the clock running out.

Despite his fumble, Sandberg was one of the star performers of the night with his all-round field generalship and first class kicking.

He was helped along by Paul Cholakis, Biff Fliss, Clawson and Depres.

Joe Pal, Tom Waldon, Damiano, Joe Chihki, Jack Stewart, and Smith were Tiger standouts.

Substitutions were made freely and it looked as if coaches of both clubs were giving everyone in uniform a chance to assess player strength before the season gets into full swing.

Winnipeg play Toronto Argonauts in another exhibition game at Toronto Saturday afternoon.

Winnipeg—flying wing, Stropas; halves, Cholakis, Sandberg, Florence; quarter, Gardiner, snap, Edwards; insides, Irving, Kissell; middles, Passman, Delesuw; outsiders, Clawson, Vaccher; subs, Detrov, Fitzgibbons, Miller, Hobson, Perry, Depres, Korchok, Norvack, Ahoff, Wood, Corby, Bergson, Simovitch, Gibb, Yakimischuk, Fredrickson, Fliss.

MERLE HAPES.

Hamilton—flying wing, Capriotti; halves, Waldon, Stewart, Chihoki; quarter, Smith; snap, Gaudaur; insides, Aull, Blant, Gaudaur, Alford, Zarek; outsiders, Wolkowski, Ainsworth; subs, Tipoff, D. Difrancesco, Turnbull, Waterman, Repei, Strachan, Manorek, Accardo, Muzyka, Hapes, Wilson, Montour, Gostich, L. Difrancesco, Fabian, Crooker, Damiano, Conti.

Summary:

First Quarter.

Scoring—none.

Second Quarter.

1—Winnipeg, single (Sandberg, kicked to deadline).

2—Winnipeg, single (Sandberg kicked to deadline).

Regina Won't Release Rogers Riders Ask Ruling on Schrauth

Now you see him, now you don't, or words to that effect might typify the Buck Rogers case, latest player squabble to develop on the football front.

From an Ottawa viewpoint, it looks as though we won't be seeing the husky tackle, who until this season had played all his football in his own backyard.

A few hours after Ottawa vice-president Jim McCaffrey had confirmed a Regina report that Buck was heading home, the wires were busy again. This time they carried a denial from the high command of the Western club.

This denial said that Rogers had reconsidered his move after a discussion with Regina officials and his earlier statement about departing was "premature."

Another Version.
However, McCaffrey had a wire from the former Rough Rider centre at the Ottawa practice last night which explained the Regina club had done the reconsidering.

According to the telegram, Rogers had been told his release by Regina—required because he had signed a Canadian Rugby Union certificate there—would be granted. After the news of Rogers' intent to return to Ottawa came out, the Regina club voted against granting that release.

The executive vote was 3 to 2 against the action.

Ottawa officials had little comment to make about the affair and their hands are tied because of the CRU playing certificate.

So, it looks as though Buck will have to stick to his Western post for the time being—unless Regina should have a change of heart.

Schrauth Case.
Meanwhile the Ottawa executive is worrying about another vote. This one will be made by the CRU. At least Riders have requested a vote to be taken concerning the status of Joe Schrauth, a guard who formerly played with Cornell.

Schrauth has been working here during the past year and has turned out with Riders. Ottawa would like to obtain his services, but have already filled their import quota. Now Riders want to know whether or not Schrauth would be classed as an import considering that he came here of his own free will and with no intentions of

NAPANEE WINS. KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 17. —

(CP) — Napanee Athletics swept on to their third straight victory and a berth in the finals in the Eastern Ontario Senior Baseball tournament when they defeated the Brockville Memos tonight 5-2.

A four-run uprising in the fifth inning decided the issue.

Argo Imports Impress In Exhibition

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 17. —(CP)—

Two squads from the Toronto Argonauts football team tonight battled to an 11-11 tie in a pre-season exhibition football game staged in aid of the Kinsmen's Memorial Stadium floodlight fund.

About 1,000 persons saw the game.

Russ Reeder, back, who formerly played for Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions, starred in forward passing. Joe Krol did well in the same department, especially in the fourth quarter, when he threw a 50-yard pass to Bill Wardle for the tying touchdown.

Barney Barnett, formerly of Wilmington Tippers, and Nick Volpe, former University of Toronto star, were outstanding as receivers. Ed Middlestead, who moved to Argos from University of Buffalo, stood out as a plunger.

Argos are scheduled to play their first regular exhibition game of the season against Winnipeg Blue Bombers in Toronto Saturday.

J. L. Couillard Wins French Institute Golf Tourney

J. L. Couillard negotiated the tricky Chaudiere Club layout in 85 to capture the Aubrey Trophy in the Institut Canadien Français golf tournament yesterday.

Couillard led the field of members while R. Bertrand, a guest in the tourney, and not eligible for trophies, toured the course in a four-over-par 75 for the best gross.

Max Dagenais took the Reinhardt Cup in B class for his 97 gross and Ben Normand scored a 98 to annex the Dion Cup in C class competition. R. D'Aoust was top man in class D with a 96.

The aforementioned players took trophies, but the prize-list is the longest in local golf records. Every one of the 55 competitors was given a prize, regardless of score.

Following competition, the field attended a banquet with Institute vice-president Edgar Chartrand presiding.

Golf committee: J. M. Baril, J. L. Vachon, G. D. Ambrose, starter R. Racicot.

Earl Stimpson, Chaudiere Club pro assisted the starter and handled the scoreboard.
